
Policy C5.0.2 Environmental Management Policy

SCOPE

Kenaidan's Environmental Management System (EMS) is effective as of January 2008. It applies to the operations located at our head office and shop as well as our construction projects in the Province of Ontario. Procedures are modified for offices and Projects in other geographic locations.

EMS POLICY

Kenaidan, as a General Contractor in the Construction industry, recognizes that the protection of the environment is one of our major corporate responsibilities. It is a guiding principle in the operation of our business and a key component in the measurement of our business performance. We are committed to providing a quality service in a manner that ensures a safe and healthy workplace for our employees and minimizes our potential impact on the environment.

Kenaidan makes a commitment to the ecologically responsible use of natural resources and acknowledges the need to integrate environmental considerations with all facets of the construction process.

Kenaidan will continually demonstrate leadership in establishing environmental standards, ecosystem objectives, environmental quality guidelines, and codes of practice.

Within all our projects, we will strive to anticipate, mitigate, and control any potential environmental effects or dangers to the site or surrounding areas that we can influence in a practical manner. Kenaidan is committed to comply with contract documents governing the environmental aspects of a project and the requirements of the owner/authorities, partners and associations affected by the contract work.

On a yearly basis, or as required, the policy will be reviewed and/or revised by the Senior Management Committee to ensure that the outline of the policy is current with our business practices.

Kenaidan's approach to dealing with environmental issues is based on the following principles:

- We will integrate the consideration of environmental concerns and impacts into our decision making and activities.
- We commit to continually improve our environmental performance through periodic reviews, and internal and external audits.
- We will meet or exceed all relevant legal and regulatory requirements applicable to our operations.
- Through regular monitoring of performance, Kenaidan will set and review targets and objectives that are measurable and practical, on a continual basis, focusing
